
Should i buy ds??

Posted by 360cookie - 2008/05/11 14:45

Hey i got the original ds day one but i traded it in last summer now i kind of want to buy a new one but i'd like to no if there any really good games that have been released since and if you enjoy the console as a whole.

I bought one just for the RPG's, FF3 push it over the top for me.

Mario Kart DS for me, and I agree FFIII was fun on it. I really, really loved Professor Layton, I think that and Mario kart alone make it worthy of purchase. Also notable are Zelda Phantom Hourglass, Animal Crossing Wild World, Brain Age, and the New Super Mario Bros. Get it.

You could just look up the game list on a site like Gamespot and look for what's interesting by yourself.

Your should definitely get one for Mario Kart, New Super Mario Bros, and Ninja Gaiden Dragon Sword. Best games on the DS in my opinion.

I would at least wait until E3. I remember hearing rumors awhile ago that a new DS design was essentially complete, but that Nintendo was biding their time. I've still got my launch fatty, so I'm interested in an upgrade if the refresh is significant.

My son is turning 5 next month and he wants a DS, but I also heard mention that Nintendo is coming out with a new one, so I think maybe we'll wait till E3.

Definitely. My DS probably gets more play time than my 360 and Wii combined. Part of this is because of my work schedule, but also there are some great games on the system. I can pretty much guarantee some downtime for my consoles anytime a new Phoenix Wright game comes out.

Games to check out:

Phoenix Wright series

Prof Layton

Picross

Mario Kart

Zelda

Advance Wars

Yes, buy the Ds.It is a great system.As for games it just depends on your age and what your interested in.I just turned 40 and I just bought my first Pokemon game,Pokemon MysteryDungeon Explorers of Time,I bought Explores of Darkness for my 8 year old and he looked like he was having fun with it so I had to join in on the fun. Also try:

Planet Puzzle League

Flash Focus

Puzzle Quest

Brain age 1-2

Tetris Ds
